ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This resource was developed as part of the GEF ID 10785 project titled “Global Development, Review and Update of National Implementation Plans (NIPs) under the Stockholm Convention (SC) on Persistent Organic Pollutants (POPs)” and funded by the Global Environment Facility (GEF).

This resource has been developed by the Knowledge and Risk Unit of the Chemicals and Health Branch, United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), which ensured the content aligns with the latest information and knowledge and supports the objectives of the Stockholm Convention on Persistent Organic Pollutants (POPs). The Green Growth Knowledge Partnership (GGKP) facilitated the design, layout and dissemination of this material, ensuring its accessibility and alignment with global knowledge-sharing objectives.

The GEF is a family of funds dedicated to confronting biodiversity loss, climate change, pollution, and strains on land and ocean health. Its grants, blended financing, and policy support aim to help developing countries address their biggest environmental priorities and adhere to international environmental conventions. Over the past three decades, the GEF has provided more than $23 billion and mobilized $129 billion in co-financing for more than 5,000 national and regional projects.

The GGKP is a global community of organizations and experts committed to collaboratively generating, managing and sharing green growth knowledge. Led by the Global Green Growth Institute (GGGI), Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO), and World Bank Group, the GGKP draws together over 90 partner organizations.
